Roney announced the settlement last night, after a conference here with management and union representatives. Terms also provide six paid holidays, a week's vacation with pay and an open shop plan.

Tammany Attempt Fails

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer's attempt to reorganize Tammany Hall was set back yesterday when a majority of the Tammany district leaders stayed away from a meeting called to discuss the reorganization. Only 27 of the 72-member executive committee attended the session and observers attributed most of the absences to opposition to the reorganization.

Persecution Goes On

Vatican City, Jan. 18 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, addressing a group of 10 American newspaper editors and writers who arrived in Rome yesterday to start an army-conducted tour of Europe, said today that "ruthless persecution of men of civil and religious rights has not ceased" in the post-war world. Receiving the newspapermen in the papal library of the Apostolic palace, the Pontiff praised American generosity in aiding Europe's war sufferers.

Slaying Victim

Police Lack Clue In Girl's Killing; Maniac Is Sought

Los Angeles, Jan. 18 (AP)—Police questioned several persons today for information on the friends and acquaintances of 22-year-old Elizabeth Short, whose mutilated body, nude and bisected, was found in a vacant lot early Wednesday morning.

Authorities admitted they had not yet uncovered any clue that might put them on the trail of the actual killer. Capt. Loren Q. Martin of Long Beach, where the girl had been living, said she had many suitors, and that effort would be made to question all who could be located.

Police learned that Miss Short had been in San Diego about a week ago. She wrote a friend that she hoped soon to go to Chicago to model. The latter, addressed to L. Joseph G. Pickling at Charlotte, N. C., and dated Jan. 8, was believed by officers to be the last she wrote.

Flicking told police in Charlotte that he met Miss Short in Southern California before he went overseas, but said he was not engaged to marry her at any time. Detective Harry Hansen said he had found several letters from Pickling to the girl, kept in a trunk here.

Police psychiatrists said the girl's slaying plainly was the work of a sex maniac and that every indication pointed to her having been tortured, possibly for hours, before she was choked to death. She then was bludgeoned and cut, the killer apparently hoping to destroy identification marks.

The girl's mother, Mr. Phoebe M. Short, 46, of Medford, Mass., was due here today by airplane, and after conferring with authorities was to go to the home of relatives in northern California.

Minister, Singer Return to Michigan After Their Jaunt

Pastor Is Out on Bail Provided by Wife; His Companion on Trip Is in Hospital

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 18 (AP)—A mild-mannered minister and an attractive choir singer, objects of a widespread police search after they disappeared together Wednesday, were back in their home town today apparently headed towards reconciliation with their spouses.

The Rev. Daniel L. Rordy, 54-year-old grandfather and a clergyman for 27 years, and his companion on the cross-country jaunt, brunette Mrs. Mary Marguerite Cowles, 40, surrendered to police late yesterday.

Within a short time, the slightly-built pastor was given preliminary hearing on an adultery charge and demanded further examination. He was taken to jail in default of $1,000 bond, but less than three hours later his wife posted the bond and took him home.

Meanwhile, post Mrs. Cowles, wife of a salesman, was taken to Receiving Hospital and admitted in what police termed "a very nervous condition." Her appearance on a similar charge was deferred.

Mrs. Cowles' first and only visitor was her husband, Paul, who was closeted with her for more than an hour in their private hospital room. He later told newsmen that he didn't "blame" Mrs. Cowles for the episode but that it "was mostly the minister's fault."

Wouldn't Discuss Case Members of the minister's family said he would not discuss the case with newsmen, but Cowles told reporters his version of how the greying minister developed a friendship with Mrs. Cowles. He said the minister, a few years ago on a deer hunting trip, the friendship between the two men developed and soon their wives became acquaintances.

C. I. O. Hits Portal Pay Legislation

Union Claims Violation of Constitutional Rights; Suits for 4 Billion Would Fade Future Effect

Steelworkers Official Says Public Would Feel 'Catastrophe'

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The C.I.O. declared today that proposed legislation to outlaw portal-to-portal pay suits "violates the principles of our constitution."

Less Pressman, the C.I.O.'s general counsel, told a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee that bills designed to nullify employer liability "only serve to impair in workers the apprehension and the fear that the present Congress does not propose to play the game according to the rules where workers' rights are concerned."

All Suits Would Be Out The subcommittee is considering bills introduced by Senators Wiley (R.-Wis.) and Cappelletti (R.-Ind.). Both measures would knock out suits for more than $4,000,000 in back pay. They also would outlaw or restrict future suits.

The pending claims were filed after the Supreme Court held that time employees are required to spend getting ready for their job is work and that they should be paid for it. The ruling applied to sharpening of tools, changing clothes and the like.

C. I. O. union won the high court ruling which opened the door to back pay suits. The decision went against the Mount Clemens (Mich.) Pottery Company.

Catastrophic, He Says Pressman, also representing the C.I.O. United Steelworkers, told the subcommittee that bills before Congress "present implications which are catastrophic to the public welfare."

"This is so not only because workers are retroactively deprived of rights, but there is a more basic evil . . . these proposals depart from our most cherished legal traditions and constitutional limitations."

Pressman said the C.I.O. is confident that if "the rights of industry were attacked in a similar way, the hue and cry which would arise would be heard around the world."

Silent on Other Bills Pressman did not touch on a third portal bill introduced yesterday by Senator O'Daniel (D. Tex.). This would recover for the treasury all money workers may receive from portal suits under the wage-hour law.

The two bills he did assai have been endorsed in testimony by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers and other industry organizations.

Pressman urged that the subcommittee make an inquiry into "the working conditions of American industry" before making any decision on the two bills.

Hannegan to Slay On

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan has told friends in Congress he plans to stay on as Democratic national chairman for the time being. After the Democratic defeat in the election last November, a considerable cry arose for him to get out as political signal rather than for the Democrats. Hannegan decided to ride out that storm. And a leading Democrat in Congress said today that Hannegan has in fact held the reins of the party for a while longer, even though his health is poor.

Court of Appeals Establishes Supreme Court Labor Status

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The Court of Appeals has established the right of a State Supreme Court to decide whether the State Labor Relations Board may order collective bargaining proceedings.

By a 5-2 vote, the state's court of final determination ruled yesterday that four New York city newspapers could take court action to prevent a collective bargaining election among the city's 1,400 news vendors.

The publishers, contending that the vendors were not their employees, sought a declaratory judgment from the supreme court in a move to prevent the board from proceeding. The board, through a member, the Rev. William J. Kelly, objected.

The Court of Appeals found "evidence sufficient to constitute a cause of action for a declaratory judgment."

"Jurisdiction over such actions has been conferred to the supreme court xxx and the field in which such actions may be brought is

500,000 Police Are Mobilized for Polish Elections

Men Will Guard Polling Places for First Voting Since Germans Invaded

Warsaw, Jan. 18 (AP)—The government mobilized 500,000 security police and regular and volunteer militiamen today to guard the polls in tomorrow's parliamentary election, first since the Germans marched in September 1, 1939, and started World War II.

Col. Roman Romchowski of the Ministry of Public Security said slayings of election commission members and militiamen had passed the 100 mark. He reported that 38 chairmen, vice-chairmen and members of local district election commissions were killed in the pre-election terrorist attacks by the underground organization "WIN" and bands allied with it.

In addition, he said, 51 militiamen, security police and soldiers were killed in guerrilla attacks with bands attacking polling places. Another 25 were kidnapped and presumed killed, he said, adding that the attacks were continuing in widely scattered sectors of the country.

The opposition has charged that a victory for the Communist-dominated government bloc in tomorrow's voting is pre-determined.

The big fight will be between the government bloc under Premier Edward Osobka-Morawski, Socialist, and the opposition Polish peasant party (P.S.L.) under Vice-Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk.

Tieup Is Charged The government has accused Mikolajczyk and his followers of a tieup with murderous anti-government underground, while Mikolajczyk has charged the government with mob and security police suppression of his party.

Yesterday he said he had heard that the bloc parties had Continued on Page Five

Teachers Ask Raise For Next 6 Months

Would Get in That Period Sum Proposed Over 15 Months

By HAL REED Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—Upstate teachers pressed the state today to raise its teachers' pay for the next six months by $32,000,000, the amount with which the administration proposes to cover 15-month increases.

After the current semester, minimums ranging from $2,400 to $3,600 should take effect, the New York State Teachers Association asserted.

Through its executive committee, the association demanded legislation this session to finance sound state aid basis after July 1. Governor Dewey and his Education Committee have proposed $32,000,000 as additional state aid to schools for the next 15 months.

Continuing criticism of the temporary $300 salaries and $2,000 minimum salary recommended by Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—Socialist Paul Ramader's negotiations toward the formation of a new French cabinet took a favorable turn today when M.R.P. (popular Republican party) leaders let it be known that the right he was willing to enter a coalition government. These leaders explained that the party's formal motion yesterday calling for the continuance of an all-Socialist government, meant that they preferred a re-creation of such a government only if Leon Blum were at its head. They said they were convinced now that Blum was definitely out of the running.

Clues Are Followed

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—A picked detail of policemen and detectives were following slender clues which might lead to the slayer of Motorcycle Patrolman Harry Schiffries, 39, who died last night, the victim of a blast from the muzzle of a foreign-made revolver. Schiffries was shot early yesterday by one of two thugs in an automobile which he had forced to the curb after it passed through a red light at Park avenue and 67th street.

Dies

Anthony Charles Trabasso (above), of Poughkeepsie, died an hour after he was found on a Brooklyn sidewalk. A swastika and the word "Nazi" carved by a small knife or sharp pin, was found on the chest of the 18-year-old Pratt Institute student. Police said he apparently died of a fractured skull.

Student's Death Apparent Suicide, Says Police Deputy

Maintains Poughkeepsie Artist Branded Self; Skull Fracture Laid to Fall

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Police have listed as "apparent suicide" the death of an 18-year-old commercial art student whose broken body, with the word "Nazi" and a swastika carved on his chest and abdomen, was found lying in a quiet Brooklyn residential street.

The student, Anthony C. Trabasso, was found unconscious early yesterday and died 45 minutes later without regaining consciousness. Death was attributed to a fractured skull. He also had suffered fractures of the right hip and internal injuries. The letter "A" also had been cut into the chest.

Deputy Chief Inspector Kenny said an autopsy showed the chest markings were self-inflicted and that the skull fracture could have been suffered only from a fall from a height.

He said the death was listed tentatively as "apparent suicide" but that police were continuing the investigation on the possibility he had been slain.

When found, the youth, whose parents operate a tavern in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was barefooted and clad only in blue-striped pajamas and underwear.

The body lay on a sidewalk in front of a three-story building, a half block from Pratt Institute which Trabasso attended.

The boy's father said his son telephoned Thursday night to say he would be home Friday for a "heart to heart talk."

Congress Supports Truman Move on Return of Funds

President to Have Billion and Half of Unspent Appropriations Sent to Treasury

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—A move by President Truman to return more than $1,500,000,000 of unspent appropriations to "unobligated" status in the treasury drew a quick assist from Congress today.

Chairman Taber (R.-N.Y.) of the House Appropriations Committee told reporters his group will act on Mr. Truman's recommendation probably next week.

Some of the appropriations will be canceled, removing them from the spending program for the 1947 fiscal year ending next June 30.

Authority to spend another portion—$805,000,000 of unneeded bond-lease funds—expired with the end of the 1946 fiscal year last June 30. These funds the president is withdrawing from the hands of various agencies and placing in the treasury surplus fund.

The action will not affect Mr. Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget estimates for 1948, said a White House statement announcing it late yesterday, because the cancellations "were taken into consideration" when these estimates were made.

Says It's Not Enough Taber said of the president's recapitulation move: "That helps. But it is not any where near enough. It would help more if he would eliminate some undesirable functions, such as the crazy operations of the Commerce Department."

Taber said the recapitulation move would not further Republican tax reduction plans, "since the money he is dealing with already has been impounded." He explained the president's action merely transfers the unexpended funds formally to an unobligated status.

The president recommended to Congress the repeal of appropriations totaling $563,888,579, including $325,000,000 made available to the Maritime Commission for shipbuilding and not required because of the war's end (plus $132,000,000 of contract authorizations for which no appropriations had been made).

Apartment Is Sold To G. H. de Mare

Public Relations Executive Purchases House on Fair Street

The apartment building at 294 Fair street, owned by the Ingham Holding Corporation of 9 Main street, of which Robert Ingham is president and Ellsworth Coleman, secretary, has been sold to George H. deMare of 114 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, by John A. Cole, president of John A. Cole, Inc., real estate brokers of 280 Wall street. Mr. deMare is executive of public relations of the Brooklyn Department of Western Electric and well known in the publishing field. He gives a course in short story writing at Columbia University.

This is the fourth time that the same property has been sold by John A. Cole, Inc. Formerly the home of the late Mayor Palmer Canfield and later occupied by the Hackett Sanitarium, the property was sold by the Kingston Savings Bank to Mrs. M. K. Lobley of Woodstock and Mt. Vernon in October 1945. In November 1945 William Engelen, formerly of Brooklyn purchased the place and remodeled the entire premises making five modern apartments and superintendents quarters. On December 18, 1946 he sold the property to the Ingham Holding Corporation at a reported price of $35,000.

Sold for $42,000 Yesterday it was announced that the property had been sold to Mr. deMare for $42,000. The property was bought as an investment and will continue to be managed by the Ingham Holding Corporation until the new owner makes further arrangements.

Three of the apartments, which were specially arranged for professional use, are now occupied under lease by Dr. Pauker, Dr. Lehner and Dr. Newman, dentist. Two apartments on the third floor are occupied by tenants and three Continued on Page Five

Action May Occur When Legislature Meets on Monday; Senate Is Sticker

Suit May Come Arnall May Sue Bank, if Checks Given Out Are Rejected

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 18 (AP)—An authoritative source opposed to Herman Talmadge asserted today that "Talmadge forces would impeach Georgia's attorney general Monday for his actions in upholding Ellis Arnall as legal governor of Georgia."

The legislature was in recess until Monday, and Talmadge spokesmen were unavailable for comment, but legislative observers discounted the chances that Attorney General Eugene Cook could be removed. Talmadge forces could ram charges through the house, but a two-thirds majority of the senate would be required to convict and anti-Talmadge forces could block removal.

Meanwhile, Herman Talmadge and his supporters continued to hold physical possession of the state capital and the governor's mansion while Ellis Arnall conducted business from temporary quarters in a downtown office building.

Arnall motored to Atlanta from his home, 40 miles southwest of Atlanta, prepared to bring suit against Atlanta's Fulton National Bank if checks issued by his executive secretary yesterday are rejected for payment.

"I have just begun to fight," he declared.

Says All Is Quiet Talmadge, occupying the capitol offices on basis of his election as governor by the General Assembly, declared that "everything is quiet" and said "the reluctance of the former governor to quit the scene of his triumphs has not disturbed me in the least."

The fight over the chief executive's chair evolved more and more into a war of words between the two principals, each issuing frequent statements supporting his claim or appearing on radio broadcasts to expound his case.

Arnall appealed to the citizenry of the state to discuss the issue with their legislators and declared that "free elections by the people will be done away with unless you fight for your rights."

"If you fight, x x x it is your future. My interest is unselfish," he said in a radio address during the afternoon.

In a reference to a suit he instructed Cook to institute seeking a judgment on whether the legislature had the right to elect Talmadge, Arnall said he should the courts will uphold me as legal governor and not the forces bent on violence."

Reiterates Statement Talmadge, in turn, reiterated a previous statement that the courts had no jurisdiction in the matter. "The governorship is exclusively the province of the general assembly," he told a news conference. He said he had been served with court papers, resulting from Arnall's suit, ordering him to show cause why he should not be removed as governor but added that he did not know whether he would answer the summons.

The controversy apparently will halt, temporarily at least, federal aid for highway construction in the state. Division Director B. P. McWhorter of the Public Roads Administration said his office was "not going to authorize any new work" on federal aid projects in Georgia until the issue was settled.

No Showdown Secretary of State Ben Fortson said that so far there had been no showdown through his office or who is governor. Neither has requested him to affix the great seal of the state to any document, he Continued on Page Five

Praises Journalists

United Nations President Says Future of Diplomacy Depends on Them

Antwerp, Jan. 18 (AP)—Paul-Henri Spaak, United Nations Assembly president, looked toward newsmen on hand for a Socialist meeting last night and told them, "on you, journalists, depends the future of open diplomacy."

"You may be among the greatest contrivers of peace," he said, "but if you color the news, if you over-emphasize the importance of some phrases in speeches, you may be the indirect cause of international disagreements or conflicts."

Y.W.C.A. Looks Forward to New Location In Its Own Home with Many Possibilities

From six small rooms to 11 large ones is both a joy and problem for Kingston Y.W.C.A. as the association makes final arrangements for moving from 14 Henry street to 209 Clinton avenue, its new permanent home. After more than 20 years on the first floor of the Mechanics Hall Building, the "Y" has purchased an entire house for its own use. Moving days will be the week of January 27.

The former residence of the Hissorock family at the corner of Maiden Lane and Clinton avenue, will provide space for many activities for the women of the community. Although the large extension of the present building will be missed in many ways, the association intends to utilize every bit of room to the best advantage. As one enters the new building, there will be a drop-in-lounge in the room to the right. Miss Matilda Martin, office secretary, will have her desk in the main reception hall. To the left two rooms have been combined for the largest space for suppers, dances and club meetings. In the rear is a large kitchen with two pantries. The snack bar idea may be used at one end of the kitchen.

Fireplaces
Six working fireplaces will add cheerful corners. Some of the rooms are being redecorated in bright colors such as aqua, slate blue and soft gray rose. The hallway which encloses the wide stairway is being done in light buff. Some stained glass windows have been replaced with clear glass permitting a great deal more light to enter.

The second floor offers five rooms, two of which will be used as offices by Miss Ethel Roberts, executive director, and Miss Audra Stinger, teenage department director. A reading room will be placed in a corner of the second floor portion of the hallway and a powder room is planned between two of the large rooms. All of the rooms have several windows with pleasant views.

Closet Space
The closet space would prove a paradise for any housekeeper. Since one room after the other boasts a large closet room with shelves and drawers as well as hooks and bars for hangers. There are six on the second floor alone. One of the most interesting spots will probably be the comfortable window seat on the first staircase landing. It has three large windows looking out toward the Governor Clinton Hotel and part of the Academy Green. The top floor will provide the play room. The entire room is being insulated and lined with beaver board. A length of 40 feet and width at least 20 feet with alcoves is undoubtedly the best spot for play. One of the alcoves will be a browsing corner with shelves of books. Teen-age groups and employed girls will find this one of the favorite rooms. A large storage space is at one side.

Fire Escape
The all important fire escape will be placed outside the windows on the top landing easily accessible from the play room. It will be built to the ground on the north side of the building. Two rooms for craft classes are being arranged in the basement. There will be gas jets and tubs for water. There also are several storage rooms. The house has hot water heat with a coal burning furnace.

Snow covers the surrounding grounds but there is promise of a setting for a lawn party or picnic this summer. On the north side of the building is a lawn with flower border.

Furnishings are being planned by the committee. Donations will be required but the "Y" is waiting until after moving day to decide what will be needed.

Congressmen's Salaries

What are the present salaries of Congressmen?
Like other citizens, Congressmen have found it increasingly difficult to get along on pewar salaries. Effective with the present (80th) Congress, salaries for both Senators and Representatives have been upped from $10,000 to $12,500 a year, plus $2,500 tax-exempt expense allowance.

The Vice-President's salary was raised, too, bringing it to $20,000 a year—the first increase in 22 years. Salaries of the President and Supreme Court Justices have remained constant, however.

Have you up-to-date information about the working of your Government? Our Reader Service booklet will tell you at a glance all these things you want to know about Congress, the Supreme Court, the Executive branch, the capital, flag, etc.

PERSONS IN OFFICE MAY HAVE EXCUSE FOR REMAINING SEATED

It is curious how often a partial quotation, while accurate in itself, can give a completely wrong interpretation. For example, this letter asks me: "Was it wrong of me to get up at my desk in a large office to greet a new executive of the company, who was conducted around the office to each one and introduced by another executive? One of the girls claims you said to remain seated in an office."

As already noted, this girl may have quoted quite properly part of what I said, but the implication is quite wrong. What I actually said was that it is permissible to remain seated if wedged in a small space or harried behind office equipment. When possible to get up, it is proper to do so and, in fact, in this particular situation, it was especially required, unless there was an obvious reason for this girl's having to remain seated.

Bride's Attendants

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother thinks I am very wrong to ask my best girl friend to serve as maid of honor instead of my 15-year-old sister. What is correct?

Answer: I don't know why you can't have both as bridesmaids unless they differ too greatly in height. In this case, single file does not look well unless the church is very small and the aisle is narrow. The maid-of-honor is merely the one who holds your bouquet and straightens your veil.

"Shall I say Thank You?"

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper to thank a waitress when being served in a private house?

Answer: While it is never wrong to say, "Thank you," it would be senseless unless she did something for you. If she helped you rise your chair or out of it, you would say, "Thank you," of course, but not merely when you help yourself from the dishes she passes you. If you refuse them, you do say, "No, thank you."

Lunch Time Early for Long Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be improper to wear a hostess gown at a one o'clock lunch I am giving here at my own house?

Answer: A short dress would be in better taste. A wedding is the only occasion when a long dress is worn suitably this early in the day.

After eating meat, should the fork be transferred to the other hand? Send for the leaflet, "Zig-zag Eating," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Post in care of The Kingston Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Wise, Tender, Unselfish Women Are the Answer

High Falls, Jan. 18.—The Ladies Auxiliary of Town of Marletown Post, American Legion, met in the fire hall on Thursday evening with Mrs. Isaac Graham, temporary chairman, presiding. Notification from department headquarters stated that their charter application had been received and that they were therefore authorized to do business. A nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. George Williams, chairman, Mrs. Reuben Jansen and Mrs. Joseph Greenburg was appointed. Officers will be elected at the February meeting and Mrs. Stanley Matthews, department vice-president, has been invited to install them at the same time. Mrs. Frank Williams was appointed chaplain. The constitution and by-laws were adopted and poppies will be ordered for the annual Poppy Day drive in May.

Used clothing valued at $12 has been collected and distributed to veterans' families during the past month. Christmas cards are being collected for use by the veterans at Castle Point and about 800 have been turned in. Anyone having such cards (just the cards) are asked to send them to the chairman, Mrs. Ernest Jansen. The next meeting will be held in St. Peter's parish hall, Stone Ridge, February 20. On February 25 the Legion and Auxiliary will entertain the country organization in the High Falls fire hall. Anyone eligible for membership is asked to obtain applications for membership from Mrs. Isaac Graham, president, Mrs. Robert Sutton, secretary, or Mrs. Alden Hutchins, treasurer, or any other member of the unit. A person is eligible for membership if her husband, father, brother, or son, is a member of any Legion Post, or she has served in any branch of the service herself.

Marletown Auxiliary Holds January Meeting

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Clare Booth Luce declared in an address yesterday that "men will be better, wiser and more peace-loving when they are reared by wiser, tenderer, more intelligent and unselfish women."

Speaking at a luncheon meeting sponsored by the round-the-world Y.W.C.A. reconstruction fund campaign for $2,100,000, the writer and former congresswoman told 2,000 women guests.

"Our great failure is not that we have failed to be politicians or statesmen, or scientists or soldiers or scholars. It is simply that we have failed so tragically to be better women."

already arranged for returns to show the P.S.L. getting eight per cent of the vote. Government leaders have forecast a sweeping victory for their side, which won a referendum last June 30.

The United States, Britain and Russia will be waiting for the election result. The Soviet Union sponsored the provisional government out of which the current setup grew. The U. S. and Britain won cabinet posts for Mikolajczyk, premier of the wartime London government-in-exile, and other London leaders. At Yalta and Potsdam, the three countries guaranteed Poland "free and unfettered elections."

Two Powers Protest
In the last year, the two western powers—which made such elections a condition of their recognition of the Polish government—have protested in a series of notes that the current government of national unity has violated the guarantee. Both Russia and Poland have replied that the election is Poland's own business. On other occasions, Gubkowski has promised the election will be free.

Twelve million Poles—half the population, including soldiers enfranchised by last September's election law—are eligible for balloting between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. in 6,726 precincts, by estimate of Judge Kazimierz Bzowski, general commissioner of elections. They will choose 444 deputies to a one-house parliament from among 1,675 candidates. These candidates number 730 from the government bloc, the Communist-backed Workers', the Socialist, Democratic and Independent Peasant parties; 287 from the Polish Peasant party; 193 from the new liberation group, P.S.L. Splinter; 15 from the Catholics, and 22 from others.

added. Although Annall did carry a certificate to Fortson's office to indicate he was continuing to function as governor, he was told that he was not to do so. A move toward a showdown on state finances, Annall issued 28 checks drawn against the executive department fund to cover the payroll for departmental employees. In a letter to President Eric Cooke of the Fulton National Bank, Annall wrote that suit would be instituted if the bank failed to honor the checks.

Annall said there was approximately $100,000 in the fund, enough to operate on indefinitely. From the other camp, Charles L. Redwine, Talmadge-appointed revenue commissioner, said he had signed $1,815,000 in checks for state funds and all the checks had been honored by banks of the Atlanta Clearing House Association. Redwine explained that the money was that which the department had collected in taxes and the checks were to transfer the cash to the state treasury.

Dewey's committee, the association claiming 44,000 members outside New York city, opened an intensive campaign for public support and voted a potential $142,000 for the drive.

The Executive Committee approved plans for a publicity staff, advertising department, and full use of research staff and official magazines in the campaign.

It approved a monthly per capita assessment of $1 for the next three months and use of the $10,000 "war chest." State President Mary A. Sheehan of Rochester reported. She said the policy-making body, the House of Delegates, had been slated for a possible emergency meeting.

Legislation concerning recommendations of the Governor's committee, submitted to the legislature, was expected to be enacted next week.

The Governor's committee announced its findings were "strictly of an emergency nature" and "provide no sound basis for a continuing program of state aid to local schools."

It promised another report before the end of the session dealing with a basic program of aid for education and permanent salary schedules.

Update and New York city teachers have joined in demands for a $100,000,000 increase in the state salary schedule. The total $126,000,000, the Manhattan teachers ask a $2,000 minimum salary.

City and County Teachers to Join In Wage Fight

A request from the Kingston teachers was received last evening at the third meeting of the county district school teachers, asking that they be included in the movement to secure increased salaries for teachers through allocation of surplus state monies. The request was received favorably and the Kingston city teachers will meet with the county group next Wednesday evening. Place of that meeting was not determined.

The meeting held Friday evening at the home of T. M. Metzger, Roosevelt avenue, was attended by committee members from the four supervisory districts of the county.

A communication was received from Saratoga, Washington and Warren counties which was discussed at length. The teachers of these counties pointed out their alarm at legislation now before the legislature and also referred to the apparent lack of conception of the legislators of what it takes to prepare for a teaching profession. It was also pointed out the difference between the salaries of teachers and other trades, where far greater salaries are paid although there is far less preparation.

Telegrams were sent to Speaker Heck of the Assembly and Majority Leader Feinberg of the Senate as well as to Senators Wickes and Assemblyman Wad in which the teachers asked that the teachers not be actively back the teachers' request for a minimum of $2,400 and a maximum of $3,600 which is being sought. These telegrams were sent in the name of the 700 teachers of Ulster county.

Members of the committee from the county have actively interested themselves in the movement.

Clarence Johnson, district superintendent of Supervisory District No. 1; Donald Rafferty, principal of Glisco school; Ernest Myers, principal of Hurley school; Mrs. A. Roosa of Ruby and Thins Metzger of East Kingston; Mrs. M. Arnetta Russell of Fort Even school; Ralph Johnson, superintendent of the Second Supervisory District; William Newkirk, president of the Kerhonkson High School Teachers Association; Lester Roosa, Third Supervisory District superintendent; and Mrs. M. Bloise of the Third District; Reginald Bennett, superintendent of the Fourth Supervisory District; Mrs. Evelyn Swart of Shokan school.

Following a discussion the group last evening sent an answer to a communication from Senator Wickes which was received at a meeting held last week. A clarification of the "$300 emergency raise" plan as proposed by pending legislation was sought. It was believed that there was justifiable confusion in the minds of the teachers and this matter was sought to be clarified. There was expectation that the pending legislation appeared to grant only a $20 a month increase to teachers and this was not deemed sufficient in view of the years of training which are required to fit a teacher for the profession.

At the meeting it was pointed out that four states in the United States have already granted the $2,400 minimum and $3,600 maximum limits, among the states being California and Minnesota. Teachers feel that if these states can do it, there is no reason why the Empire state, "one of the richest in the nation" cannot meet the plan.

During the discussion it was brought out that the increases asked will not become a tax burden on the people of the state through increased taxation but the teachers seek to have this increase come from the state funds which are now on hand.

It was pointed out that unless there is an increase granted which makes the profession attractive enough to replace those retiring, the entire state teaching system will deteriorate and break down the educational system of the state. It was the expression of those in attendance at the meeting Friday evening that one of the essentials for good government is education, that being one of the first requirements toward future good citizenship and unless good teachers are provided there will be general break-down in the educational system which must reflect back on good citizenship.

In addition Powell had advanced money to Harris which was to be deducted from future wages. Harris is on parole from a state penal institution.

Tells of Treatment Given to Infantile Paralysis Patients

The Ulster county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis feels fortunate in having a number of specially trained registered nurses for the care of polio patients, who are educated at the expense of the chapter. Treasurer Ray Garrahan hopes to have a number of new nurses trained every year, in event there should be another polio outbreak like that of 1945.

Miss Gloria Winthrum, R. N., recently gave an interesting talk in which she told of several weeks spent with an Ulster county patient at the State Reconstruction Home in West Haverstraw, to which every polio patient needing specialized treatment is sent.

Miss Winthrum said that the treatment of polio cases is divided into two stages—the fight against the acute stage of the disease, when the bacillus within the body is destroying the power of the muscles and, when that has subsided, the fight to bring the patient back to normal living. This last was said to be sometimes a long and tedious process.

Physical therapy was said to be the main theme of the work at the West Haverstraw Hospital, with patients ranging from babies to adults and each needing special treatment or exercises, according to involvement.

Muscle-re-education plays an important part, Miss Winthrum said, but every attempt is made also, to keep the mind active as well as the body. School children continue with their school work. Occupational therapy occupies idle hours, and a recreational program is set up, including club work, music, dancing and games.

The hospital is equipped with modern, expensive equipment to take the patient through the different stages of development. There are three graduate hot pools and all the varied types of exercise equipment.

The treatment is free, made possible through the March of Dimes donations, it was stated.

March of Dimes coin boxes are in all public places of the county. Collections are being made in all the industries and dance tickets are out for the March of Dimes fund-raising drive.

20 Hijackers Are Arrested by F.B.I.

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced today the arrest of 20 men here and one in Miami Beach, Fla., who they said comprised a gang which has been responsible for more than 90 truck hijackings here in the past year at a cost of $500,000 to shippers.

Edward Scheidt, special agent in charge of the New York office, said the arrests "struck a blow at the heart of hijackers and motor truck thieves who have victimized New York city business concerns of huge quantities of scarce and expensive merchandise."

The men were members of the "Westo" gang, he said, and their arrests followed months of investigation.

Invitations for C. of C. Banquet Sent to Members

FULTON LEWIS, JR.

Invitations to attend the second annual banquet and meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening, February 5, at the New York State Armory on North Manor avenue were mailed today to every member of the local chamber.

Reservations for the banquet will be restricted to members of the Chamber of Commerce, their families and friends until Saturday, January 25. After that date, the general public, in addition to chamber members, will be given an opportunity to purchase tickets for the dinner.

Fulton Lewis, Jr., Washington news reporter and commentator of the Mutual Broadcasting System, will be the guest speaker at the banquet. His address will be followed by the annual business meeting.

"A hundred tentative reservations have been made to date so that you are urged to send in your reservation promptly," the letter sent out by Louis B. Skelette, chairman of the Annual Meeting Committee, stated.

"Chamber of Commerce members, their families and friends will be given preference in the allocation of tables until Saturday, January 25. Any member wishing to reserve complete tables of 10 or 12 may do so by filling out the enclosed card," the letter continued.

"A number of equally good tables will be saved for those ordering tickets in smaller numbers. Tickets will be mailed to you, but do not expect to receive them until approximately five days after we have received your check, due to the necessity of mailing tickets and sales. You may telephone him or the chamber office—Kingston 5100—for other information concerning tickets."

The annual banquet will be started promptly at 7 so that those attending the dinner may be able to hear Mr. Lewis' nightly coast-to-coast broadcast which will originate that night in this city. The dinner will follow immediately, and after this will come Mr. Lewis' speech. It is believed that the business session will be scheduled at about 9 or 9:30 p. m.

Although many of the general plans for the banquet and meeting already have been completed, final details will be discussed early next week at a meeting of the Annual Meeting Committee, Mr. Skelette said today. He emphasized the necessity of chamber members making early reservations for the dinner, inasmuch as tables are being assigned now in the order that reservations are received.

Newburgh C. of C. Is In Favor of Bridge Here

Directors of the Newburgh Chamber of Commerce have gone on record as approving the erection of additional Hudson river bridges, including the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

The resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce directors favors the erection of bridges where needed and where engineering problems and construction costs are not too great. It adds a proviso that financing be confined to the State Bridge Authority, that the bridges be self-liquidating and that general taxpayers of the state be not involved or burdened because of them.

Middies Win in Overtime, 45-43; Chiefs Battle Troy Here Tonight

Liberty Defeats Monticello 36-24 To Clinch Honors

Redskins Wind Up First Round With Fifth Win in Row; Weaver High in Game Here

In a close game from start to finish which was marked by fierce body-checking by both clubs, Middletown High School scored a thrilling 45 to 43 victory over Kingston High Friday night at the municipal auditorium in a regular DUSO League encounter. The biggest crowd of the current basketball season watched the battle.

In another DUSO League tilt last night Liberty High chalked up its fifth straight win last night with a 36-24 decision over Monticello to get the round honors in the local Don Huffmire Liberty center. The Redskins gained the victory with 15 points. Huffmire has now amassed 106 points in his five games to pace the entire circuit in that department.

Last night's regulation tilt ended 41-41. Harry Koch rifled in a set shot to give the Redskins a 43-41 edge but that was the local's last bid for victory. Before the overtime ended Harry Stangler and Charlie "Red" Murray broke in for fields which gave Middletown the hotly-contested ball game.

Both clubs battled on even terms for almost the entire route with neither quiet holding more than a six-point lead. Middletown took the biggest edge in the fourth by 38-32.

Weaver Tallies 18
Big Ed Weaver, Kingston's great center, led both clubs with 18 points. Ed dropped in eight fields and two fouls. Ken Lowe, Kingston forward, and Stangler of Middletown, registered 14 apiece. Jack McDaniels, Middle guard, collected 11.

Misses Steals Show
Although scoring only eight points, all in the final half, Mike Rizzo, fiery Maroon forward, stole the show during the last two periods with his sensational dribbling and hook shots from the side which kept Kingston in the game. Mike laid in a beauty at the opening of the final quarter when he dribbled all the way through Middletown's defense, swept into the corner and fired in a beautiful layup.

Middletown nearly had the game won without the extra period by holding a 41-37 lead with about a minute and a half to go. At that time, Kingston staged a foul shot. Ed Weaver tapped one in to make it 41-39 with a minute left on the clock.

Weaver came back again with another tap with just 16 seconds left to tie up the score 41-41. Ed's deuce came after Middletown tried to freeze out the game. Ed broke up an attempt, however, passed to Lowe, who shot and missed. Weaver, always on the alert, broke in and worked in a shot which connected.

Then came the fatal overtime session.

Bideline Jottings
...Coach John Mahalic's Maroon Jayvees scored a 41 to 24 win over the Kingston Basketeers in the prelim. Chambers scored 11 for the winners. Dedrick was high for the losers with 14. Cheerleaders of both schools looked snappy last night. Middletown's girls were garbed in white blouses and blue skirts. There was plenty of cheering from both sides. A terrific din broke after Weaver's last second field in the fourth quarter. Officiating by R. E. Sarge and Bill Lewis of West Point was far from satisfactory in the minds of both schools. There were plenty of raw decisions from start to finish. Why doesn't a certain individual stop his crabbiness with referees at these high school games so as to make his presence known? Officiating last night was off-color without a doubt, but such antics by a called Kingston fans doesn't add prestige to K.H.S. The Maroons return to the auditorium Tuesday night for a non-league tilt with Saugerties. The advance sale of tickets for next Friday's DUSO League game between Kingston and Newburgh at the latter court is still in progress at the local high school. No school will be held at the door on the night of the game.

Mangrum Is Leader
Richmond, Calif., Jan. 18 (AP)—United States open golf champion Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, whose sensational 64 tied the Richmond Country Club golf course record Thursday, led the pack in the $10,000 Richmond Open Golf Tournament today, as the nation's leading scorers took off for the third round of the 72-hole medal play contest.

Post by meeting at High Falls, according to E. S. Jansen of High Falls, commander of Marbletown Post.

That's why we're cutting down on the list of speakers. Kingston High School's DUSO championship football team, and Coaches Willard Burke and Russ Cunningham, will be invited guests at the banquet, Clarence "Sloat" Rowland, said today. "Although the football season is a matter of history right now, the former star high school basketball player, 'we still feel there should be more praise heaped on that great football machine.'"

The appearance of Coach Holcomb at the banquet promises his listeners considerable interest insofar as the West Point grid coach has a colorful career in back of him as sports mentor's leading team. During the off-season and his success in basketball comes near to his football achievements.

Prior to his assignment at West Point Holcomb was an outstanding football back in the Big Ten from 1928-1931, where he played with the Buckeyes from Ohio State. He captained the Buckeyes in his senior year and was later voted All Big-Ten fullback.

Holcomb's duties at the Point are not confined to football alone. He coaches the Cadet basketball team during the off-season and his success in basketball comes near to his football achievements.

The West Point coach is a native of Erie, Pa., and was the first enlisted man to join the ranks of Army's coaching staff.

Panel Discussion On Problem of Teacher-Salary

Held at Meeting of School Boards and Teachers of the Second District

At a recent combined meeting of representative school boards and teachers from the second supervisory district of Ulster county, a panel discussion on the teacher-salary problem was given by four members of the teachers' organization—Ulster Educators. There are 157 teachers in the district.

One of the speakers, Mrs. Janet Bracken, of New Paltz, said that all of us who work with children and have children of our own are more than concerned with our educational system. Our democracy can survive only as a society where an alert citizenry is aware of its responsibilities and has the background and training to intelligently participate in that democracy.

Continuing she asserted that our schools always have been a leading factor in the development of our nation. Teaching was a respected profession, though always a poorly paid one, and through the years of our nation no lack of citizens was found to teach the ideals of democracy. The picture now has changed. The young . . . cheerfully by-pass teaching . . . for jobs which pay far better than teaching . . . and so we have an exodus of teachers—350,000 in five years and 109,000 of those teaching under temporary licenses. In New York city alone, since 1941, some 10,000 have left its system and only 3,000 have entered the ranks.

Our teacher colleges have seriously curtailed enrollments, and new students are enrolled by lowering the entrance requirements to almost moribund levels. City College once trained 600-700 teachers a year; their numbers now are 50. Our own small district has 27 improperly licensed teachers and one substitute. Unhealthy is a mild term!

This is our democracy—and it is their future which concerns us. Miss Rosalie Symes of Highland declared that everyone knows that there is a crisis in education in the entire country. Anyone who reads a newspaper or a magazine cannot fail to recognize this.

From a recent survey on teachers' salaries in the second supervisory district, I am surprised to find teachers receiving as little as $1,200 a year contract salary. This is not take-home salary; for after deductions are made for retirement, etc., it is much less; in fact, it amounts to $912 a year or about $17.50 a week. The meagrest kind of labor pays much more than this.

From this same survey I find one teacher who has taught for 39 years and is receiving the overwhelming salary of $1,307 a year, (contract salary). Another teacher with 43 years of service is receiving $2,300 a year; 2,100 hours were spent in getting a teaching education at a cost of $531. The teachers of this supervisory district today have spent on an average of over 1,074 hours in getting an education at an average cost of $2,000.

Education is a business, and according to business a net profit of at least 15 per cent should be realized on any investment. On $2,000 that would be about $300 a year. What teacher has $300 at the end of the year which he or she can put aside as savings or a net profit?

He may have put $300 aside, but what does he plan to do with it? If he doesn't get a summer job, he uses it to live on or takes a course of study, or maybe a trip which he feels helps in his profession. I wonder how many businessmen would feel that they had had a good year with a net profit of $300?

On the same survey I notice many minus signs in the column headed "Net Income," showing that living expenses in most cases exceed the income. How is the minus result taken care of? The teacher either goes out for an after-school job or a summer job or borrows money. Or, as in a great many cases lately, the teacher gives up his profession and gets a job that gives him enough money to balance his budget.

The cost of living has jumped up 34 per cent in the past two months or since ceilings have been lifted. The teachers' salaries have increased 19 per cent on an average from 1939-1946. In 1939 most of the teachers of this supervisory district took a $200 cut in salary. During one year the teachers received two checks: One they kept; the other, a 10 per cent refund, was returned to the district.

Today the average take-home salary of the teachers in our district is $1,820.02 a year, or $35 a week.

The question of inadequate teachers' salaries is not a new issue. Teachers have always been poorly paid. Teachers have got the reputation of teaching "for the love of it."

Patterson Hits Disunity That Marked Invasion of Japan

Chicago, Jan. 17 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson disclosed today that wartime disunity of command in Washington prevented agreement upon a supreme commander for the projected invasion of Japan.

He added: "I trust that we shall not face that condition again."

In an address prepared for the Council of State Governments Patterson emphasized the value of the unified command system used in the theaters and commented on its lack in the top planning levels in the capital.

His comment came only a day after President Truman announced "full and complete" agreement between the army and navy on a plan for unification of the armed forces.

Noting that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz commanded all forces in the central Pacific and General Douglas MacArthur controlled army, navy and air in the southwest Pacific, Patterson said:

"But in the planned invasion of Japan no over-all commander ever was selected. The reason for this defect—and it might have been that to succeed—was that here at home there was no unified command. The war was conducted by two separate departments, the War Department and the Navy Department, with the joint chiefs of staff acting as a kind of committee. I trust that we shall not face that condition again."

The secretary, in discussing the structure of the nation's present military defenses, reiterated that the day of "push button war" has arrived as a result of scientific progress.

Such warfare is "not just around the corner or even in the foreseeable future," he said, adding that this view is the settled opinion of the "leaders of science who directed the great scientific and technological advances made in the war."

For the first time, Patterson said, there are real prospects of world organization for peace because "the United Nations is a going concern." He recalled that he is on record as favoring disarmament "across the board, from atomic bombs to pistols."

However, the fact remains "that nations still talk and act in terms of force," said Patterson, and the maintenance of an adequate force by this country, during the period of transition, is necessary.

Inflation Is Ebbing

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Signs of official confidence that inflation is on the ebb were seen today in a decision by the Federal Reserve Board to permit renewal of margin trading on securities exchanges. Beginning February 1 traders in stocks and bonds may put up 75 per cent cash and 25 per cent credit instead of 100 per cent cash as required by a rule in effect since last January.

Pay Line Time Is Latest Demand in Portal Litigation

Los Angeles, Jan. 18 (AP)—Latest demand in the portal-to-portal litigation is pay for time workers have to stand in line to get their paychecks.

That was one of the points listed in a suit filed by three C.I.O. unions against Ford, Curtis Wright, Timm Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Chrysler Motors, Freuhauf Trailer and American Aluminum, asking more than $21,000,000.

The United Auto Workers, United Aircraft Workers and Agricultural Implement Workers also want to be reimbursed for time spent while cleaning up and changing clothes before going to and leaving work, for time off duty in reporting to first aid for minor injuries.

Probe Is Begun

Bakersfield, Calif., Jan. 18 (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission investigation was launched today into the wreck of the Southern Pacific night flyer, the owl, in which at least seven persons were killed and 71 injured yesterday, 12 miles north of here. The crash, in which one express car, four chair cars and a tourist sleeper toppled over, was attributed by Southern Pacific Division Superintendent B. W. Mitchell to a broken rail.

Electrol Workers Join Machinists Union 300 Strong

Clerical workers and all employees in the tool designing department at Electrol Inc., on Grand street have voted to join the International Association of Machinists, Ulster County Lodge No. 1562, President Joseph Murphy said today.

An election conducted Wednesday by the National Labor Relations Board reflected overwhelming sentiment in favor of a union.

The International Association of Machinists, the original union at the plant, has absorbed the new group and total union strength is 300. The engineer department is the only group non-union at the present time.

Negotiations for a new contract for the new members of the union are being delayed pending receipt of the certification of the election by the N.L.R.B. Union officials declined comment on terms of the proposed contract. Dewey Logan and Victor Fletcher represented Electrol Inc. at a recent meeting with the N.L.R.B. in New York, while Joseph Murphy and Thomas Allison, International representative, appeared for the union.

South-West Africa is one-fifth larger than Texas.

Zena Country Club Holds Its Elections

Woodstock, Jan. 16—The annual meeting of the Zena Country Club was held at the club house Friday evening following a meat loaf supper which was served by the ladies. Thirty-five were present despite the stormy night. Officers were elected for the year as follows:

President, Montecena DeWitt; vice president, Erwin Holmzer; recording secretary, Edna DeWitt; treasurer, Lewis Long; financial secretary, Alice Wolven; two members of the Board of Governors, William Klementis and H. F. Butler; sergeant-at-arms, Frederick Janson, Sr.

The following new members were welcomed in the club, Mrs. Erwin Holmzer, Mrs. E. Saille, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thaisz and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Cousins.

The public is invited to attend a card party at the clubhouse Wednesday, January 22. Refreshments will be served. The committee is headed by Erwin Holmzer.

The regular dance of the club will be held as usual Saturday. Many of the members gathered at the club Wednesday night for a "game evening." Ping pong, checkers and cards were enjoyed by those attending. These parties are planned to be held regularly each month.

During 1945 there were 96 million meals served in U. S. railroad dining cars.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Dimes March Away
Indianapolis, Jan. 18 (AP)—Marion county infantile paralysis campaign leader wondered why the response to their "March of Dimes" mail campaign was so slow.

They took a good look at the cards; they had been mailing and found that Indianapolis dimes apparently were marching to Detroit. The return address on the envelopes read, "Abram E. Learned, chairman, National Bank of Detroit, Mich." The cards were sent to Indianapolis by mistake from National Headquarters.

Operation Pellets

Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—Matthew Kline, 68, was taken to Abington Memorial Hospital last night after being struck by an auto.

Kline had suffered a slight shoulder injury in the auto accident. A routine X-ray examination was ordered, and the technicians were startled to discover 24 pellets lodged in the shoulder. State Police were called.

Kline then recalled that he stumbled while carrying a shotgun in search for a groundhog 12 years ago.

Paint Problem

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 18 (AP)—Where does the roof of a Quonset hut leave off, and the side begin?

The A. A. Jackson Painting Co. contends the huts at Marine Camp Pendleton near here are roofs from the ground up—and thus may be painted entirely with spray guns. The company is suing decorating contractors and A.F.L. painters, who maintain the huts are "half side" and must be half painted with brushes.

Around 65,000 veterans are applying monthly for admission to Veterans Administration hospitals or homes.
